

The literal ban forces the split: a number is either a named input or a computation. The blind holdouts, not the fit, are the gate.